5 WAYS

Libraries & Cultural Resources is supporting Open Access at the University of Calgary

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY
LIBRARIES AND
CULTURAL RESOURCES

1 $100,000 OPEN ACCESS AUTHORS FUND

Faculty and grad students are invited to access this innovative fund to cover Open Access author fees. Libraries and Cultural Resources is playing a leading role in the movement to increase worldwide accessibility of cutting-edge research. The funds have helped over 150 UofC authors publish their research in Open Access journals. <http://library.ucalgary.ca/services/-faculty/open-access/open-access-authors-fund-0>

2 INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORY - DSPACE

This dynamic digital archive manages, preserves and provides world-wide and timely access to the research output of University of Calgary's faculty, grad students and research groups. Enjoy tracking how many times your material is downloaded and which countries are most interested in your work. <https://dspace.ucalgary.ca/>

3 UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY PRESS

With a new vision of "Making a difference. Making you think." the Press is moving from print-only to a full range of publishing options: e-books, print-on-demand, and downloadable files, to provide the widest possible audience for the important research they are publishing. <http://www.uofcpress.com/>

4 SYNERGIES

The University of Calgary is actively involved in Synergies, a country-wide network for the production, storage, and dissemination of, and access to digitized knowledge produced in Canada. The initial focus is on peer-reviewed journals in the Social Sciences and Humanities. Synergies assists interested journals in the transition to open access publications and guarantees the long-term preservation of their knowledge. <http://www.synergiesprairies.ca/>

5 DIGITIZATION

Some of our best research relies on primary sources – community histories, legal documents, historical photographs, and archival records. Libraries and Cultural Resources has digitized thousands of these materials and made them freely available on the web. Check out our collections at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/digitalinitiatives/>
