

2019-05-01

Taking it to the Streets: Community-based pedagogy for all disciplines

de Koning, Alice

de Koning, A., & McArdle, J. (2019). Taking it to the Streets: Community-based pedagogy for all disciplines. Presented at the Conference on Postsecondary Learning and Teaching: Exploring Experiential Learning, University of Calgary, Calgary, AB.

<http://hdl.handle.net/1880/110346>

Downloaded from PRISM Repository, University of Calgary

You're Invited!

Street Challenge

Community of Practice

2019-20 Academic Year
University of Calgary

Contact: Dr. Alice de Koning
alice.dekoning@ucalgary.ca

You're Invited!

Street Challenge

Community of Practice

2019-20 Academic Year
University of Calgary

Contact: Dr. Alice de Koning
alice.dekoning@ucalgary.ca

Street Challenge is a customizable and innovative community-engaged pedagogy on an OER platform that allows you to scale experiential projects within your courses.

Contact:

Dr. Alice de Koning
alice.dekoning@ucalgary.ca

Dr. John McArdle
jmcardle@salemstate.edu

Street Challenge is a customizable and innovative community-engaged pedagogy on an OER platform that allows you to scale experiential projects within your courses.

Contact:

Dr. Alice de Koning
alice.dekoning@ucalgary.ca

Dr. John McArdle
jmcardle@salemstate.edu

Menu of Experiences:

- Field Observation Trip
- Mapping/(Business) Inventory
- Design a Mall (Ecosystem)
- Various Reflection Exercises and Examples
- Student Research and Ethics Training
- Needs Assessment
- Demographic Dive
- Street View Report (background research)
- Stakeholder Interview
- Consumer/Client Research
- Proposal Drafting and Delivery

Menu of Experiences:

- Field Observation Trip
- Mapping/(Business) Inventory
- Design a Mall (Ecosystem)
- Various Reflection Exercises and Examples
- Student Research and Ethics Training
- Needs Assessment
- Demographic Dive
- Street View Report (background research)
- Stakeholder Interview
- Consumer/Client Research
- Proposal Drafting and Delivery